Foreword

International Standard

ISO 10545-9:1994 Ceramic tiles; determination of resistance to thermal shock which was prepared by ISO/TC 189 'Ceramic tiles' of the International Organization for Standardization, has been adopted by Technical Committee CEN/TC 67 'Ceramic tiles' as a European Standard.

ISO 10545 consists of the following Parts:

- Part 1 Sampling and basis for acceptance
- Part 2 Determination of dimensions and surface quality
- Part 3 Determination of water absorption, apparent porosity, apparent relative density and bulk density
- Part 4: Determination of modulus of rupture and breaking strength
- Part 5: Determination of impact resistance by measurement of coefficient of restitution
- Part 6: Determination of resistance to deep abrasion for unglazed tiles
- Part 7: Determination of resistance to surface abrasion for glazed tiles
- Part 8: Determination of linear thermal expansion
- Part 9: Determination of resistance to thermal shock
- Part 10: Determination of moisture expansion
- Part 11: Determination of crazing resistance for glazed tiles
- Part 12: Determination of frost resistance
- Part 13: Determination of chemical resistance
- Part 14: Determination of resistance to stains
- Part 15: Extraction of lead and cadmium from glazed tiles
- Part 16: Determination of colour differences
- Part 17: Determination of coefficient of friction

This European Standard shall be given the status of a national standard, either by publication of an identical text or by endorsement, and conflicting national standards withdrawn, by February 1997 at the latest.

In accordance with the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations, the following countries are bound to implement this European Standard:
