European foreword

This document (EN 16686:2015) has been prepared by Technical Committee CEN/TC 414 "Project Committee - Services in osteopathy", the secretariat of which is held by ASI.

This European Standard shall be given the status of a national standard, either by publication of an identical text or by endorsement, at the latest by January 2016, and conflicting national standards shall be withdrawn at the latest by January 2016.

Attention is drawn to the possibility that some of the elements of this document may be the subject of patent rights. CEN [and/or CENELEC] shall not be held responsible for identifying any or all such patent rights.

Attention is drawn to the fact that in certain countries specific national regulations apply and take precedence over this European Standard. Users of this European Standard are advised to inform themselves of the applicability or non-applicability for this European Standard by their national responsible authorities.

According to the CEN/CENELEC Internal Regulations, the national standards organisations of the following countries are bound to implement this European Standard: Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, Former Yugoslav Republic of Macedonia, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and the United Kingdom.

Introduction

Osteopathy is a primary contact and patient-centred healthcare discipline, that emphasizes the interrelationship of structure and function of the body, facilitates the body's innate ability to heal itself, and supports a whole-person approach to all aspects of health and healthy development, principally by the practice of manual treatment.

Patients who choose osteopathic treatment have to be assured of the quality and the standard of care that they will receive.

This standard is concerned with the provision of osteopathic diagnosis, treatment and care. It aspires to set a standard that provides for high quality clinical practice, education, safety and ethics for the benefit of patients.

This European Standard does not supersede national legislation.

1 Scope

This European Standard specifies the requirements and recommendations regarding the healthcare provision, facilities and equipment, education, and ethical framework for the good practice of osteopathy.

2 Terms and definitions

For the purposes of this document, the following terms and definitions apply.

2.1

care

interventions that are designed to maintain and improve health

2.2

case history

detailed account of a patient's health and disease status and other information provided by them

2.3

clinical record

document which relates to the case history, examination, assessment, evaluation, diagnosis, treatment or care provided to a patient, and any necessary administrative information

2.4

co-morbidities

concomitant but unrelated pathological or disease processes

2.5

consent

acceptance by a patient of a proposed course of action to be taken by an osteopath after having been informed of relevant factors relating to it

2.6

continuing professional development

CPD

means by which members of a profession maintain, improve and broaden their knowledge and skills relating to that profession

2.7

diagnosis

the development by an osteopath of working hypotheses of dysfunction(s), and recognition of signs and symptoms of illness or disease using diagnostic processes of examination, assessment and evaluation

Note 1 to entry: This definition is being used in this European Standard, whether or not the legislation of an individual state prevents such a term being used by an osteopath.

2.8

dysfunction

area of the body with impeded biomechanical, neuroelectrical, vascular, biophysical, biochemical or cellular function which is causing a decrease in health

2.9

health

state of complete physical, mental and social wellbeing and not merely the absence of disease or infirmity
