1 Scope

This part of ISO 9073 describes test methods for measuring the quantity of test liquid (simulated urine) which runs down a nonwoven test piece when a specified mass of test liquid is poured on to the nonwoven test piece superimposed on a standard absorbent media and placed on an inclined plane.

This test method is designed to compare run-off of nonwovens. It is not intended to simulate in-use conditions of finished products.

Three alternative methods are described:

- a) Test I — the basic method for testing hydrophilic nonwovens;
- b) Test II — the repeated test, with the same test parameters as in a);
- c) Test III — the modified method for testing hydrophobic nonwovens specifying another table inclination than in a).

2 Normative references

The following normative documents contain provisions which, through reference in this text, constitute provisions of this part of ISO 9073.
