LUMINAIRES

Deuxième partie: Règles particulières

Section dix – Luminaires portatifs attirants pour les enfants

10.1 Domaine d'application

Cette section de la deuxième partie de la Publication 598 de la CEI détaille les prescriptions applicables aux luminaires portatifs attirants pour les enfants à utiliser avec des lampes à filament de tungstène sous des tensions d'alimentation ne dépassant pas 24 V (TBTS). Elle doit être lue conjointement avec les sections de la première partie auxquelles il est fait référence.

10.2 Règles générales sur les essais

Les dispositions de la section zéro de la Publication 598-1 de la CEI sont applicables. Les essais dont le détail est indiqué dans chaque section appropriée de la première partie doivent être exécutés dans l'ordre spécifié dans la présente section de la deuxième partie.

10.3 Définitions

Pour les besoins de la présente section, les définitions de la section un de la Publication 598-1 sont applicables en même temps que la définition suivante:

1) Luminaire portatif attirant pour les enfants

Luminaire qui, en usage normal, peut être déplacé d'un endroit à un autre tout en étant relié au réseau et qui est conçu pour représenter un modèle, un personnage ou un animal de telle façon que, en raison de la conception et des matières utilisées, il puisse être considéré par l'enfant comme un jouet.

Note. — Des exemples de tels luminaires sont:

- veilleuses à lampes à incandescence;
- figurines de personnages, d'animaux, de constructions, de voitures ou de trains avec des lampes à incandescence internes ou externes.

10.4 Classification des luminaires

Les dispositions de la section deux de la Publication 598-1 sont applicables, sauf que les luminaires portatifs attirants pour les enfants doivent être classés comme étant de la classe III mais avec une tension nominale maximale de 24 V (TBTS), et appropriés pour être montés ou posés directement sur des surfaces normalement inflammables.

10.5 Marquage

Les dispositions de la section trois de la Publication 598-1 sont applicables en même temps que les prescriptions du paragraphe 10.5.1.

LUMINAIRES

Part 2: Particular requirements

Section Ten – Portable child-appealing luminaires

10.1 Scope

This section of Part 2 of IEC Publication 598 specifies requirements for portable child-appealing luminaires for use with tungsten filament lamps on supply voltages not exceeding 24 V (SELV). It is to be read in conjunction with those sections of Part 1 to which reference is made.

10.2 General test requirements

The provisions of Section Zero of IEC Publication 598-1 apply. The tests described in each appropriate section of Part 1 shall be carried out in the order listed in this section of Part 2.

10.3 Definitions

For the purpose of this section the definitions of Section One of Publication 598-1 apply together with the following definition:

1) Portable child-appealing luminaire

A luminaire that in normal use can be moved from one place to another while connected to the supply and which is constructed to represent a model, person or animal such that due to the design and materials used it could be treated, by a child, as a toy.

Note. — Examples of such luminaires are:

- nightlights using filament lamps;
- replicas of persons, animals, buildings, cars or trains with internal or external filament lamps.

10.4 Classification of luminaires

The provisions of Section Two of Publication 598-1 apply except that portable child-appealing luminaires shall be classified Class III but with a maximum rated voltage of 24 V (SELV) and shall be classified as suitable for direct mounting or standing on normally flammable surfaces.

10.5 Marking

The provisions of Section Three of Publication 598-1 apply together with the requirements of Sub-clause 10.5.1.
