Introduction

In railway business, the customer very often requires, as part of a contract, technical documents in a certain form. In order to support co-operation and effective exchange of information between customers, suppliers and partners, it is necessary to have the document requirements precisely defined.

This document refers to EN, ISO or IEC standards dealing with parts lists. In cases where ISO or IEC standards are not sufficiently precise, this standard gives specific details. These additions to ISO and IEC standards facilitate the exploitation and the administration of the parts lists.

These additions have been drawn up to accommodate:

- the large variety of users;
- ease of transfer of documents;
- any specific series of documentation related to the railway material they define.

Special consideration has been given to those producing drawings by computer and their reproduction without loss of quality.

1 Scope

This document specifies the preparation and reproduction of design parts.

This document defines the basic principles and structure of design parts lists.

This document is applicable to all design parts lists for railway applications.
